

Liliana Palacios BSN, RN
President-Elect WW-NAHN

In my journey through WW-NAHN student member to WW-NAHN nurse member, I have always aspired to assist in the fulfillment of our organization's mission.

Through my participation I have gained a tremendous amount of insight on the various ways underserved populations can combat health issues.

Whether it is making lasting relationships in the community or participating in health fairs, every encounter is towards advancing the health of the Latinx community. My vision to sustain WW-NAHN is by refining our plans and resources, as well as implementing lasting programs. Through refinement, our organization can provide lasting resources aiding in the combat towards healthcare representation and health equity.
